* Please refer to the fund supplement and scheme particulars for a detailed description of fees and fund facts.

 The Total Expense Ratios (TERs) are the percentages of the net asset value of the class of the Financial Product incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the Financial Product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. A current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. The TER to 30.06.25 is based on data for the period from 30.06.24 to 30.06.25 and the financial year-end TER is based on data for the financial year-end to 30.06.25. Cost ratios are calculated using historical actual and/or estimated data and are provided solely as an indication/guide as to the annual expenses/costs that could be incurred. These ratios do not represent any current/actual charges or fees.

 Asset allocation figures reflect the strategic classification of the collective investment schemes (or similar schemes) held by the Fund and do not look through to the underlying holdings of such schemes.

■ Market commentary

Equity markets excluding Europe fared well in July, with global equities up 1.3% over the month. The US, UK and Japan gained 2.2%, 4.6% and 3.2% respectively, while Europe was flat but leading indicators are showing some signs of future improvement. US megacap tech stocks continued to surge, pushing the Nasdaq and the Magnificent 7 indices to all-time highs.

A key support for sentiment came from the resolution of several high-profile trade negotiations ahead of Donald Trump's 1st August deadline. Deals with Japan and the EU set tariffs at 15% making the UK's earlier 10% deal now look favourable. These agreements, widely viewed as victories for the US, removed a major source of policy uncertainty and were reinforced by more constructive talks with China, including the resumption of AI chip exports.

US economic data surprised positively, with Q2 GDP growth estimated at 3% annualised, driven partly by a sharp fall in imports after heavy stockpiling in Q1. The labour market remained resilient, retail sales improved and consumer confidence picked up. By contrast, UK stagflationary concerns deepened as inflation rose to 3.6% and growth remained weak, with sterling falling 3.8% against the dollar. The yen also weakened sharply, down 4.5% on expectations of fresh fiscal stimulus in Japan.

Emerging markets returned 1.9%, helped by a strong Chinese market (+4.8%) and relatively stable Asian currencies against the dollar. However, bond markets were weaker, with US Treasuries returning -0.4% and global bonds -1.5%, reflecting fiscal deficit concerns and sticky inflation.

All major central banks kept rates on hold, albeit with mixed messages. The ECB was more hawkish around further cuts, the BoE is cautious in the face of higher inflation but is keen to cut rates given economic weakness, while the BoJ, having raised its inflation forecast, is expected to resume policy normalisation with further rate increases. Markets are factoring in a more dovish successor to Chair Powell in 2026, and the likelihood the FOMC will begin to lean in this direction in the months ahead.

With policy uncertainty easing, risk assets have rallied strongly since April's lows. Valuations in some areas, especially AI-driven stocks, are stretched, suggesting a degree of caution is called for shorter term. However, the tariff deals, resilient US economy and productivity potential of AI support a constructive medium-term outlook, albeit with caution in the short term.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Collective investments are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated on a total return basis, after deduction of all fees and commissions and in US dollar terms. Forward pricing is used.

The Fund invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. This could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund.

Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds, the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.

The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the funds will achieve their stated objectives.

The Fund will contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of an investor's investment and the income arising from it will therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

Foreign securities may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

No borrowing will be undertaken by the Fund except for the purpose of meeting short term liquidity requirements. Borrowings will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund. For such purpose, the securities of the Fund may be pledged. No scrip borrowing will be allowed. The Cell is not permitted to enter into any form of borrowing or loan arrangement with other cells of the Company nor other collective investment schemes of the Manager.

While derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes, the risk remains that the relevant instrument may not necessarily fully correlate to the investments in the Fund and accordingly not fully reflect changes in the value of the investment, giving rise to potential net losses.

Forward contracts are neither traded on exchanges nor standardised. Principals dealing in these markets are also not required to make markets in the currencies they trade, with the result that these markets may experience periods of illiquidity. Banks and dealers will normally act as principals and usually each transaction is negotiated on an individual basis.

The Manager has the right to close the Fund to new investors, in order to manage it more efficiently, in accordance with its mandate.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.

Investors are reminded that any forecasts and/or commentary included in this MDD are not guaranteed to occur, and merely reflect the interpretation of the public information and propriety research available to the Investment Manager at a particular point in time.
