Market commentary

Global equity markets took an ugly turn, declining 9.34%. The fall was led by Emerging Markets followed by Developed Markets, posting negative returns of 11.67% and 8.99% respectively. The currency markets were also a major source of market uncertainty with the Euro losing 6.59% to the US Dollar over the on-going EU debt crisis.

Moodys's downgraded 21 Spanish banks following a cut in credit ratings of 26 Italian banks. It then followed suit with Denmark's biggest financial institution Danske Bank. Fears that Greece might reject its existing €130bn bailout agreement and potentially leave the EU hit investor risk appetite significantly. The US and German 10-year government bond yields slipped to record lows of 1.58% and 1.22% respectively, supported by safe-haven demand. Oil slumped to $102.75 a barrel.

Japan reported GDP growth at a robust annual rate of 4.10% for the first quarter from the previous 0.70% due to a surge in domestic demand and government spending. Germany's GDP surprised on the upside at 1.70% led by export growth. UK's economy contracted by 0.10% on a building slump and the US grew at an expected 1.90%. As a measure to support growth, China cut its Reserve Requirement Ratio for the first time this year to 20%.

The US unemployment rate remained a concern and rose to 8.20% from its previous 8.10% while payrolls came in sharply lower at 69,000 – below the 150,000 that analysts expected.

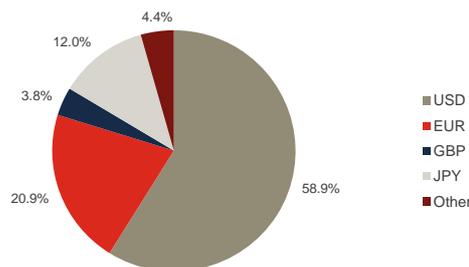

We remain cautious in an environment of rising uncertainty. We have moved to a neutral offshore equity weighting and remain underweight Government fixed interest and overweight offshore cash.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Collective investments are generally medium to long term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up, and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated Total Return, Net of all fees and commissions and in US Dollar terms. Weekly Forward pricing is used.

A fund of fund collective investment scheme only invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges.

Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds and the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.

The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and large falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the Fund will achieve its stated objectives.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of your investment and the income arising from it may therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

Certain unregulated Collective Investment Schemes may permit a greater degree of leverage than is permitted with investment funds that are available to the general public in South Africa. Such Collective Investment Schemes have a greater underlying volatility, which increases the risk of loss.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.

This Report should be read in conjunction with the Prospectus of Momentum Mutual Fund ICC Limited and the Fund Supplement, in which all the current fees and expenses charged to the Fund are disclosed.
