■ Market commentary

Global equity markets were lower for a second consecutive month as investors focused their attention on the US presidential elections. The MSCI AC World lost -1.70% in US dollar terms. Emerging markets continued to outperform developed markets, gaining 0.24% compared to -1.94% in developed markets. Global bonds lost -3.44% in US dollar terms.

The US economy grew by the fastest in pace in 2 years in the third quarter of 2016, expanding by 2.90% quarter-on-quarter. Higher inflation and improving macroeconomic indicators continue to build the case for a Fed rate hike in December.

The European Central Bank ("ECB") left interest rates unchanged at their October policy meeting. Economic data has been mixed and the outlook is clouded by upcoming elections in Italy and Germany. Brexit negotiations are expected to start during the first quarter of 2017. The ECB is likely to extend the time-frame of its stimulus programme which was expected to end in March 2017. Analysts believe that it may be extended towards the end of 2017 as the economy is still struggling with low inflation and growth levels.

In the UK, the Bank of England is expected to cut rates further as soon as the Brexit negotiations begin.

The International Monetary Fund ("IMF") released the latest edition of their World Economic Outlook. The IMF expects the world economy to grow by 3.10% in 2016, before recovering to 3.40% in 2017. The outlook for emerging economies are forecasted to improve over the next three years.

Market participants remain cautious based on uncertainty regarding the possible impact of the US Federal Reserve raising rates in a global environment where most other central banks are being forced to continue to stimulate their own lagging economies. We believe this could result in continued volatility in growth and other risk assets which calls for a measured approach, yet we remain confident that this will also bring opportunities as we remain focused on the longer term fundamentals.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors and financial advice should be sought before proceeding with an investment. Past performance is not indicative of future returns and there can be no assurance that the performance of the Fund will achieve its stated objective. All performance is calculated on a total returns basis, net of all fees and commissions and in US Dollar terms. Daily forward pricing is used for this Fund.

Collective investments are generally medium to long term investments and are traded at ruling prices. The value of the Fund and any income arising from it are not guaranteed and may fall, as well as rise, due to the value of its holdings, the income derived from them, and changes in interest rates. The Fund will hold shares or units in underlying funds which invest internationally, which will be exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, and may erode any potential gains.

Higher risk investments, such as small companies (even in developed markets), emerging markets, single country debt, equity funds, high yield and sub-investment grade debt may be more prone to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Unregulated funds may permit a greater degree of leverage than is permitted with regulated funds that are available to the general public in South Africa, which increases volatility and the risk of larger losses should the fund's value decrease.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. It is not possible to immediately assess the proper market price of these investments, as they will only be realisable on their dealing days.

A fund of fund collective investment scheme only invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and are subject to change thereby impacting the Fund's performance. Commissions and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.
