The Cell is suited to investors with an investment horizon of 5 years or longer and an intermediate (between moderate and high) risk tolerance.

Market commentary

Global Markets maintained their descent as both Developed and Emerging Markets lost more than 1.5%, leading to an overall decline in the MSCI AC World Index of 1.6%. Global bonds returned a small but positive 0.2%.

US unemployment unexpectedly ticked up again to 9.1% as non-farm payrolls fell substantially more than anticipated.

Inflation continued its upward trend across the globe. Chinese CPI rose to 5.5%, and consequently the Peoples Bank Of China (PBOC) raised its reserve requirement ratio again, to 21.5%. US CPI surprised on the upside at 3.6%. UK CPI remained at 4.5% and EU CPI declined fractionally to 2.7%. All three countries continued to hold interest rates steady, although the ECB is largely expected to hike interest rates for a second time in July.

Greek lawmakers finally voted in favour of the new austerity measures required to secure the funding needed to meet its debt obligations through August, thus avoiding a sovereign default for the second time.

The US dollar experienced a fairly volatile month with risk aversion making an appearance again and then subsiding on Greece's debt woes, however it ended the month only a tad weaker against the euro and the Japanese yen, as well as emerging market currencies.

We remain wary of a higher than expected inflationary environment and thus continue to favour equity over fixed interest instruments. We will seek to increase equity further on market weakness as stability returns.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Collective investments are generally medium to long term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up, and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated Total Return, Net of all fees and commissions and in US Dollar terms. Weekly Forward pricing is used.

A fund of fund collective investment scheme only invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges.

Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds and the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.

The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and large falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the Fund will achieve its stated objectives.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of your investment and the income arising from it may therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

Certain unregulated Collective Investment Schemes may permit a greater degree of leverage than is permitted with investment funds that are available to the general public in South Africa. Such Collective Investment Schemes have a greater underlying volatility, which increases the risk of loss.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.
