The Cell is suited to investors with an investment horizon of 5 years or longer and an intermediate (between moderate and high) risk tolerance.

Market commentary

The rally in global equity markets powered ahead, with the MSCI AC World Index gaining a further 4.82%. Developed and emerging markets rose 4.66% and 5.89% respectively. Global bonds declined by 0.95% in line with increased risk appetite.

US unemployment declined to 8.3%, mainly due to decreased labour participation, although non-farm and private payroll numbers were encouraging. US CPI continued to trend lower to 2.9%, marginally ahead of expectations. Consumer confidence rose sharply ahead of expectations to 70.8 and Q4 GDP was revised up to 3% from the previously reported 2.8%. The BoE increased its Asset Purchase Programme by £50bn in a further attempt to stimulate the UK economy. Inflation continues to decline, while pressure on GDP remains.

Despite a small uptick in Chinese CPI, the PBOC decreased the Reserve Requirement Ratio by 50bps, in its second move to help boost liquidity and support the economy. In addition, the Bank of Japan eased monetary policy further by expanding its asset buying programme by ¥10tn, causing a significant weakening of the Japanese yen to the US dollar.

The ECB has allocated an additional €529.6bn in loans to euro-area. Agreement has been reached with Greece to implement the approved €130bn bailout package. China's Central Bank Governor said that China will continue to invest in European debt and remains confident in the euro.

We maintain our overweight position in equities, and seek alternatives to fixed interest for diversification benefits and yield generation.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Collective investments are generally medium to long term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up, and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated Total Return, Net of all fees and commissions and in US Dollar terms. Weekly Forward pricing is used.

A fund of fund collective investment scheme only invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges.

Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds and the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.

The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and large falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the Fund will achieve its stated objectives.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of your investment and the income arising from it may therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

Certain unregulated Collective Investment Schemes may permit a greater degree of leverage than is permitted with investment funds that are available to the general public in South Africa. Such Collective Investment Schemes have a greater underlying volatility, which increases the risk of loss.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.
