The cell focuses primarily on long-term capital growth over the full investment cycle through a relatively high exposure to international growth assets. The portfolio will retain a good level of diversification, however, and will invest in a wide range of asset classes including cash, bonds, equities and property. The Cell is suited to investors with an investment horizon of 5 years or longer and an intermediate (between moderate and high) risk tolerance.

■ Market commentary

Global equity markets had one of the most volatile months since August 2011, experiencing material declines as minutes from the January US Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting suggested a possible scaling back of the Fed's quantitative easing programme, causing fear of the effect this may have on the already sluggish US economic recovery. This was exacerbated by political uncertainty in Italy following the Italian parliamentary elections. Later in the month Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke reiterated the Central Bank's commitment to its quantitative easing programme, allaying fears and causing equity markets to generally change direction and end the month flat. In US dollar terms, developed markets gained 0.17%, while emerging markets remained in loss territory ending the month down 1.26%. Global bonds followed this trend, losing 1.22%.

Volatility, as measured by the VIX Index, spiked a massive 19.3% on the release of the Fed's minutes, and a further 34% following the Italian government elections, but ended the month at a more reasonable level as sentiment picked up on the Fed's defence of its asset purchase program.

Global unemployment continues to tick up while inflation has declined in most major economies, leaving scope for prolonged relaxed monetary policy. Final GDP figures for the 4th quarter have so far improved, albeit at subdued levels.

We remain cautiously optimistic, and maintain our overweight equity and underweight fixed interest position. We have moved from a predominantly passive strategy to a more active and index-enhanced strategy in the funds, as we believe the current market conditions and economic environment are conducive to active management, which can add considerable value from a performance and risk management perspective. We feel comfortable that this will enhance the fund returns going forward.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors and financial advice should be sought before proceeding with an investment. Past performance is not indicative of future returns and there can be no assurance that the performance of the Fund will achieve its stated objective. All performance is calculated on a total returns basis, net of all fees and commissions and in US Dollar terms. Daily forward pricing is used for this Fund.

Collective investments are generally medium to long term investments and are traded at ruling prices. The value of the Fund and any income arising from it are not guaranteed and may fall, as well as rise, due to the value of its holdings, the income derived from them, and changes in interest rates. The Fund may hold shares or units in underlying funds which invest internationally, which will be exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, and may erode any potential gains.

Higher risk investments, such as small companies (even in developed markets), emerging markets, single country debt, equity funds, high yield and sub-investment grade debt may be more prone to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Unregulated funds may permit a greater degree of leverage than is permitted with regulated funds that are available to the general public in South Africa, which increases volatility and the risk of larger losses should the fund's value decrease.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. It is not possible to immediately assess the proper market price of these investments, as they will only be realisable on their dealing days.

A fund of fund collective investment scheme only invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and are subject to change thereby impacting the Fund's performance. Commissions and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.
