Investment objective

The cell focuses primarily on long-term capital growth over the full investment cycle through a relatively high exposure to international growth assets. The portfolio will retain a good level of diversification, however, and will invest in a wide range of asset classes including cash, bonds, equities and property. The Cell is ideally suited to investors with an investment horizon of 5 years or longer and an intermediate (between moderate and high) risk tolerance.

Market commentary

Traditionally this time of year is a weak period for equity assets, but 2013 was definitely an exception to the norm. Global equities gained 4.0% during the course of the month, while global bonds gained 0.9% (in USD terms) as investors were again rewarded for embracing risky assets.

As mentioned consistently over the past few months, we believe central banks across the globe will remain accommodative until such time as the economic recovery has fed through to the mainstream economy, which may happen much later than many speculators have estimated. Economic data in the developed world has begun to show some positive signs but still remains fragile. As long as inflation expectations remain in check, developed market central banks and governments at large will have the ability to print money and stimulate asset inflation, and to a lesser extent, economic growth. This should ensure a positive environment for risk assets, although we are well diversified to minimise concentration risk.

Our portfolios continued to perform well on the back of our preference for equity assets and corporate bond exposure. Our manager selection also added value as most of our underlying managers outperformed their respective benchmarks.

We remain comfortable with our current positioning and we are confident that our portfolios will be able to absorb excess volatility and continue to perform admirably in volatile markets.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors and financial advice should be sought before proceeding with an investment. Past performance is not indicative of future returns and there can be no assurance that the performance of the Fund will achieve its stated objective. All performance is calculated on a total returns basis, net of all fees and commissions and in US Dollar terms. Daily forward pricing is used for this Fund.

Collective investments are generally medium to long term investments and are traded at ruling prices. The value of the Fund and any income arising from it are not guaranteed and may fall, as well as rise, due to the value of its holdings, the income derived from them, and changes in interest rates. The Fund may hold shares or units in underlying funds which invest internationally, which will be exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, and may erode any potential gains.

Higher risk investments, such as small companies (even in developed markets), emerging markets, single country debt, equity funds, high yield and sub-investment grade debt may be more prone to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Unregulated funds may permit a greater degree of leverage than is permitted with regulated funds that are available to the general public in South Africa, which increases volatility and the risk of larger losses should the fund's value decrease.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. It is not possible to immediately assess the proper market price of these investments, as they will only be realisable on their dealing days.

A fund of fund collective investment scheme only invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and are subject to change thereby impacting the Fund's performance. Commissions and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.
