■ Market commentary

Global markets lost significant ground in January, recording their worst start to a new year in more than two decades. Investors remain concerned about a slowing global economy, especially considering the sharp slowdown in China and emerging markets. In US dollar terms, the MSCI AC World index lost -6.03% with developed and emerging markets losing -5.98% and -6.49% respectively. Global bonds ended the month positive 1.50%.

The Eurozone is facing challenging conditions with a growing threat of terrorist attacks and a flood of refugees crossing its borders.

The US Federal Reserve's ("Fed") Open Market Committee met during January and kept the interest rate unchanged after raising rates in December 2015. The Fed will continue to monitor global economic data but it is expected that they will gradually raise interest rates in 2016. The International Monetary Fund ("IMF") revised its US growth forecast down slightly to 2.60% from 2.80% for both 2016 and 2017.

In China, the Peoples Bank of China unexpectedly devalued the yuan which caused investors to anxiously sell Chinese shares. Meanwhile, the Bank of Japan voted to impose negative interest rates, following the lead of the European Central Bank which moved to negative interest rates in 2014.

Russia and Brazil are still in a recession and the IMF expects it to persist for much of 2016.

We remain cautiously optimistic about the portfolios, yet our concerns around market valuations and external risks remain. We need to urge investors to remain patient and committed to their chosen investment strategy as negative surprises are possible. We are comfortable with the positioning of the portfolios at this time and continuously monitor the landscape for further opportunities to reduce risk or generate return.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors and financial advice should be sought before proceeding with an investment. Past performance is not indicative of future returns and there can be no assurance that the performance of the Fund will achieve its stated objective. All performance is calculated on a total returns basis, net of all fees and commissions and in US Dollar terms. Daily forward pricing is used for this Fund.

Collective investments are generally medium to long term investments and are traded at ruling prices. The value of the Fund and any income arising from it are not guaranteed and may fall, as well as rise, due to the value of its holdings, the income derived from them, and changes in interest rates. The Fund will hold shares or units in underlying funds which invest internationally, which will be exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, and may erode any potential gains.

Higher risk investments, such as small companies (even in developed markets), emerging markets, single country debt, equity funds, high yield and sub-investment grade debt may be more prone to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Unregulated funds may permit a greater degree of leverage than is permitted with regulated funds that are available to the general public in South Africa, which increases volatility and the risk of larger losses should the fund's value decrease.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. It is not possible to immediately assess the proper market price of these investments, as they will only be realisable on their dealing days.

A fund of fund collective investment scheme only invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and are subject to change thereby impacting the Fund's performance. Commissions and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.
