■ Market commentary

The main market event in April was the first round of the French presidential election. Markets rallied as candidate Emmanuel Macron made it through to the second round of the election. Global equity markets advanced with the MSCI AC World Index gaining 1.56% in US dollar terms. Emerging markets outperformed developed markets gaining 2.19% and 1.48% respectively. Global bonds ended the month positive 1.29%.

The Federal Reserve ("Fed") is expected to continue raising interest rates gradually. Fed funds futures are pricing a 63% probability of a 0.25% rate hike in July. Economic data was somewhat disappointing with non-farm payrolls growing less than expected and headline and core inflation receding to 2.40% and 2.0% respectively.

French elections are continuing with Emmanuel Macron and Marine Le Pen winning the first round and moving into the second round (which takes place on 7 May 2017). Le Pen's party is against globalisation and immigration in the European Union, but early polls show a Macron win.

The European Central Bank has continued to loosen their monetary policy and continued quantitative easing until the end of 2017 and beyond if necessary.

The International Monetary Fund ("IMF") is more optimistic about global growth prospects. The IMF increased its global growth forecast for 2017 to 3.50% from the initial 3.40% on the back of expected faster growth in the US and continued firm expansion in China.

Most developed economies gained further momentum with China posting faster growth in the first quarter with GDP expanding by 6.90% year-on-year.

We remain concerned with market valuations and risk, however structurally we need to retain growth assets in the portfolio to ensure we achieve our longer term objectives. Asset allocation and diversification therefore remain key to ensuring downside risk management while continuing to achieve our inflation-based returns. We continue to focus our attention on consistently applying our philosophy and process to ensure we meet our investment objectives over the long term. We need to urge investors to remain patient and committed to their chosen investment strategy as negative surprises are possible.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors and financial advice should be sought before proceeding with an investment. Past performance is not indicative of future returns and there can be no assurance that the performance of the Fund will achieve its stated objective. All performance is calculated on a total returns basis, net of all fees and commissions and in US Dollar terms. Daily forward pricing is used for this Fund.

Collective investments are generally medium to long term investments and are traded at ruling prices. The value of the Fund and any income arising from it are not guaranteed and may fall, as well as rise, due to the value of its holdings, the income derived from them, and changes in interest rates. The Fund will hold shares or units in underlying funds which invest internationally, which will be exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, and may erode any potential gains.

Higher risk investments, such as small companies (even in developed markets), emerging markets, single country debt, equity funds, high yield and sub-investment grade debt may be more prone to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Unregulated funds may permit a greater degree of leverage than is permitted with regulated funds that are available to the general public in South Africa, which increases volatility and the risk of larger losses should the fund's value decrease.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. It is not possible to immediately assess the proper market price of these investments, as they will only be realisable on their dealing days.

A fund of fund collective investment scheme only invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and are subject to change thereby impacting the Fund's performance. Commissions and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.
